Subject: RE: Allied Landfill - Website access during Proposed Plan

Hi guys,

Good news – I was just told that we can keep the page live until the end of March. You can continue to use the current URL on your outreach materials (Diane – as discussed with Mary, this also applies to Tittabawassee). Please follow up with Jeff Kelley, Anne Rowan or Phillippa Cannon regarding a news release announcing the proposed plan.

Feel free to contact me with any additional questions.

Subject: Allied Landfill - Website access during Proposed Plan

Allison,

This email is a follow-up to our conversation from a few minutes ago. I feel strongly that EPA needs to keep the Allied Landfill website open throughout the public comment period for Allied Landfill. The Allied Landfill Proposed Plan has RA Hedman's attention. She has prioritized the release of the Allied Landfill Proposed Plan for this fiscal year. The current website is our method of providing online accessibility to the Proposed Plan, the most significant documents supporting EPA's decision making process, and the electronic comment box. If we remove or impede public access to these things, we will likely frustrate the public. The RA is likely expecting the public comment period for Allied Landfill to run without issues, especially self-inflicted ones.

The website we need to maintain:

I also have some questions about how Diane and I plan to handle the release of the Proposed Plan. Do you guys have time to talk about it?

Michael
